

You'll want to try these databases!

Here's the information many of you have heard in class – in addition to the databases you'll find on the library "Databases" page, we're looking for databases that help us with getting you scholarly journals and articles.

Note the free trial dates – you'll want to be sure to use them before the trial runs out, so do your searching early, and print and email sources to yourself even if you don't have time to read them right away.

Let Mrs. Lewis or Mrs. Miller know if you are having problems finding what you need. Be sure to be ready to tell us what search terms you've been trying.
