

Franklin D. Roosevelt and the Launching of the New Deal (pg. 714 – 720)

Why did FDR's message during the 1932 presidential campaign appeal to Americans?

Why were there runs on banks?

What was the purpose of the Emergency Banking Relief Bill and how did it accomplish its purpose?

How did FDR hope to gain the confidence of the American people in his plan for economic recovery?

How did the federal government's role change during the First Hundred Days?

Were many of FDR's policies to address the economic problems similar or different from Hoover's?

What were some of the problems with FDR's policies (those of the NIRA and AAA)?

List some examples of "relief" programs.

What impact did the First Hundred Days of the New Deal have on the economic figures at the time?